

Caretakers took pictures from their house at the Edmonton Speedway Complex, during the big deluge of rain we all experienced. Top and bottom pics show the level of water running through the front entrance of the complex, and the motocross circuit next door.

